PREACHER EXPRESSES HIS APPRECIATION

Strong Sermon on "Lost Christ."

"I wish to thank most cordially the newspapers of the city for their splendid accounts of this meeting. They are doing a great work for the cause of Christlanity and this meeting," said Dr. W. D. Wakefield, the evangelist who is conducting a revival at the Northside Presbyterian church, Friday night. Facing a large audience, Dr. Wakefield took for his text Luke il:44-"The Lost Christ." Seldom has such an exposition of this text been heard in the pulpit of Chat-tanooga. The evangelist was in fighting trim, having spent the previous few days of the revival in preparing the peopl for the front line.

He told of how Jesus as a boy 12 years of age had been lost while attending the Passover; how His parents did not miss Him until a day's journey had been com-pleted, and then not until night had come on; how they returned and found Him in the temple, and among strangers,

"not among His own kin."
"How many of you Christians have lost Christ—and I am speaking especially to those in the church—how many of you are tonight wandering after a day's journey, so to speak, looking for the lost Christ of your early youth? How was Christ lost by His parents? He was lost through indifference; they supposed He was with them until someone asked His whereabouts. Do you suppose tonight He is with you; have you missed Him? If you have, where will you find Him?

"You will find Him where you left Him-exactly where you left Him. No doubt in the night of your sorrow, in the night of your indifference, when you have allowed this precious Book to remain closed; when you have cast your eyes upon commercialism and your heart upon worldly things, you have lost Jesus. Can He be found among your own kin? Can your boy find Him with papa and mamma? Shall he look there in vain? How sad it is for a child to have to go from under his own roof to find his Lord and Savior.

"Friends, think of it. Remember your boy is looking and anxious to and Christ, Won't you so place yourself with Him that you can tell your boy 'He is here, Wonderfully dramatic and impressive Dr. Wakefield glanced over a myriad of white handkerchiefs, many weeping aloud. Lifting his eyes heavenward the who wants to find Him, and who is wil-ling to confess Him?" Several responses were made, and amid intense sileace the closing prayer asked that all might so live as to find Him under their own reof. among their own loved ones.

Dr. Wakefield during the services sang Walk Together," a song that touched all deeply.

There will be no services tonight. Sun-day at 11 a.m. Dr. Wakefield will have as his subject "The Devil's Detective," and at night "The Man in Hell," Interest is increasing rapidly in the meeting, and large crowds are attending. The meeting will continue through

Water Power Bill Not to Be Pressed

(International News Service.) Washington, April 27.—Confronted with the prospect of a serious fight which would unduly prolong the present session, the administration has abandoned its plan to put through an omnibus water power measure at the present session, it was learned today. The legislation was urged by President Wilson in his message at the opening of the session. Following out his wishes, the house authorized the appointment of a special committee on water power. This committee was appointed by the speaker and soon thereafter hearing upon the legislation was begun. abandoned its plan to put through an

Secretary of the Interior Lane, appearing before the new committee, as serted that the legislation was imper-atively needed to permit full development of the nation's water power re-sources for the production of war ma-terials. It developed at the hearings, however, that the legislation could not be put through without a struggle. Opposition appeared among both dem-ocrats and republicans.

In this circumstance administration leaders are believed to have secured the consent of the president to allow the legislation to be passed over until the next session. A bitter fight at this time might destroy the increasing harmony with which the congress has been rectified and the congress of the second of of been working and in addition indefinitely delay adjournment.
